TWO NEW GOLF 'FINDS' DISCOVERED IN WOMEN'S PLAY

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY (United Press Staff Correspondent

Exmoor County Club, Highland Park, Illinois, August 30 — (UP)
— Two new threats for the women's national golf championship were in the field of 16 players that entered the second round of match play today.

They were Lucille Robinson, 22year-old Drake University senior, who plays with spectacles, and Mrs Leona Pressler Cheney, Los Angeles, 1927-28 women's western champion.

This pair - A newcomer and a This pair — A newcomer and a veteran — at the bottom of opposite brackets were sensations of the first round. They outplayed all other contenders. Miss Robinson, in eliminating Jane Brooks, Chicago, played 14 holes in two under par. Mrs Cheney played 13 holes in two under par, defeating Mrs Mildred Green, Culver City, Calif. six and five.

Mildred Green, Culver City, Calli, six and five.

This entitles them to ranking on par with the "Big Four" — Enid Wilson, the husky, British champion, Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, defending champion, Maureen Rrcutt, Haworth, N. J., long a contender, but never a national champion, and Helen Hicks, Inwood, N. Y., 1931 champion.

SPEEDBOAT SUPREMAC

Rumors And Reality Gathered From This Sporting World

The Grist Of Athletic Contest

BY JOHN A. CLUNEY

Pebbles From "The Rock"

West Haven, August 29 - From the timidity exhibited by Charley Eagle in his bout with Phil Brosseau at the White City, his ring monicker in the future would be nearer to the truth if it were changed to Rabbit. For that's just how he fought and lookedlike a scared rabbit.

The bout was keenly disappointing to many Waterbury people who paid real money to see the rivals in action and it looked so bad that some of them thought the boys were doing a little "business" between themselves. However, Brosseau was trying, in my opinion. but even 264 pound Carnera could not get anywhere with the "Willie Stribling" that can be put on by Eagle. Charley held on like a drowning man to a water barrel. If his "expenses" were held onto in the same manner, he might loosen up the next time.

Mr and Mrs Albie Booth were interested spectators from a third ow position, but like scores of others, walked out on the star bout. Albie was neatly attired in the maroon and white sweater given him as a member of the Eastern football team that played the Western stars in California last winter. How do I know? On the left pocket of the sweater is sewn a football, embroidered "East". Satisfied?

Louis "Kid" Kaplan, former world's featherweight champion, officiated as third man in the ring, and turned in a bang-up, first lass performance from start to finish, and that with a couple of MARATHON MEET class performance from start to finish, and that with a couple of bouts to keep going smoothly that was anything but a cinch for any

> An amateur kid, Jackie Clark by name, was the classiest bit of fighting machinery on the card, which included three slam-bang numbers. Clark punched holes in Johnny Coburn, a warm New Haven favorite, though hailing from Bridgeport. The lad is about 17 years of age, and a real comer.

> Joe Hanley's win over Spiro Morris was the thrill de luxe, for in the first round, Hanley looked like anything but a match for the banty rooster from Bridgeport. Twenty right hand smashes off the Morris mug in the next two rounds, changed everyone's opinion and the verdict in Hanley's favor with no questions asked.

Incidentally, another Waterbury boy, Patsy Sciaretti, made a very neat showing against experienced Charley Roberts, a colored clouter from Hartford, with a grin as wide as the Panama Canal. Patsy knows enough already to keep his hands up and can sock quite well with his right paw, thank you, which Roberts found out early and often. When the Brass City battler is smoothed out a bit, he will be a winner.

Dick Gray hired a dance band to entertain the customers from 7 o'clock on, and though young, they knew their sharps and flats, trombones, trumpets, and what not. Along about 9:30 when the customers were counted, the leader leaned over, saw Dick with a big smile on his expansive pan, and then struck up, "We're in the Money!"

By HENRY McLEMORE Hula Platform, Coney Island, N. Y., Aug 30—(UP)—Here, on a stage usually reserved for grass-skirted hip swishers, the world's first international kissing marathon to-day moved into the second and semi-final round.

There were 1,000 lovers of the sport in the hall when the referee banged the gong and sent the contestants into clinch and double clinch. This proved a remarkable sight to a person acustomed to ob-sight to a person acustomed to observing such non-violent spectacles as he a vy weight championship wrestling, dirt track automobile racing and wild west bulldogging.

A lot of fellows grabbed hold of a lot of girls and started kissing them. Some of them sat down and took their girls on their laps. Others stood up and kissed as though at a depot. Still others kissed with a show of violence after the manner of octopi (same as octupuses), college alumni (same as alumnuses) meeting once again as alumnuses) meeting once again at homecoming week.

Meanwhile your correspondent stood back coldly, watched the proceedings, and speculated to have been organized long ago. Place it on a competitive basis and it is some fun. Place it on any basis and it is still some fun. Bert Nevins, the father of competitive necking, told this correspondent that he would not be surprised to see the game sweep the country like the plack sheep of the wild-

"It has everything pole has got, and more," Mr Nevins explained, "every person is fully equipped to participate. You need absolutely no equipment. Of course, a Ford car or a canoe or a pentnouse or a screen porch might be considered necessary equipment by some.
But the game in its rudimentary form is so inexpensive that it should have an immense appeal to the masses. Of course they said that about Dr Coue, wearing asoriddety bags around the neck to ward off disease, and bundling, but I honestly and sincerely be-We are inclined to agree with Mr Nevins. But one one point we must dissent. The idea is this Coney Island kissing bee is endur-ance. The contestants try to hold one kiss for several hours. We believe that later on, when people catch on to this kissing, points will be awarded for technique and beauty of execution, rather than beauty of execution, rather than ability to take it.

Mr Nevins also pointed out that kissing, unlike golf, water polo, tennis and volley ball, was a simple sport to learn, and not cluttered up with a silly lot of instructions such as "keep your head down," "keep your elbows in," "follow through" and the like.

Those interested in learning the new sport are advised to take a stroll along Riverside Drive some moonlight night when the fleet's in. The sallors, it seemed, adopted the game from the far east, where it has been known for many years.

Caddies Cool Off

Ridgefield, Conn. Aug 30.—(UP)
—Caddies at hte Silver Spring Golf club here have found a use for sand traps, other than devices to sear the soul and fray the nerves.

Recent rains have kept players off the course and also have filled the deep traps, some with three and four feet of water. Idle caddies now are spending their time swimming about in the traps, according to Harry Franzoni, the proventional.

PRICE OF ROXY CLOTHES COES UP SEPT. 5th TO 2250

OR months we urged our patrons to buy Their clothing needs while our price was the lowest in the history for Roxy quality.

Steady rising prices advanced our basic cost months ago, still, Roxy was determined to hold the same low price until after Labor Day in order to give the public the full opportunity to take advantage of the low price for our entire stock.

We are thankful to the public for the overwhelming response to our notice, which has recorded for Roxy the biggest business during June, July and August that it ever had during i's existence.

Our early stocks have long been exhausted, and the new cost of the Roxy quality clothes makes it necessary to raise our price September 5th to $22.50 in order to enable us to continue giving the public the standard of quality which has earned for Roxy a national reputation for quality clothes.

Remember—it means a definite saving. We urge you to buy your Roxy suit, topcoat, overcoat, or tuxedo now while our price is still $12.50 & $16.50. Advance fall fashions included.
